Sam Jackson presented with an Award of Merit for all her efforts on behalf of the Mandurah group.

Sam (Ella) Jackson has been an associate member of the WAWA and the Mandurah Woodturning Group since 2006 when her husband Bruce joined. She is a respected associate member of the group and its committee and members nominate her for a Merit Award of the Western Australian Woodturners Association.

In her time as an associate member Sam has served the Mandurah Group as secretary treasurer for several years. In addition, she has been a great contributor to Mandurah by organizing the kitchen for May workshops, helping with the Christmas functions, attending the Royal Show demonstrations, Pinjarra and Mandurah demonstrations, countless Bunnings' sausage sizzles, and has put a huge amount of time into the May workshop raffles. Sam along with Bruce has travelled to all the WAWA groups to collect and set up the Wood show exhibition and competition for several years. Sam has been a willing helper to Bruce with the competitions at the WAWA weekend workshops.
